CAUSES OF FUEL PRICE RISE IN INDIA

Economic Reasons

- Supply and demand imbalances
- Black Marketing
- Black money
- Rapid Growth of Population
- Taxation
- Deficit Financing
- Increase in Money Supply

Political Reasons

- Rejection of India's call by OPEC for regulating crude prices through a price band.
- Unsolved present issue of payment with Iran, India's second crude oil supplier.
- Absence of reforms to regulate automotive sector.
- Huge tax revenues from import of crude oil.

Social Reasons

- Increase in number of vehicles.
- Use of vehicles even for short distances.
- Huge loss of fuel due to keeping engines on at traffic.
- Poor R&D in automotive sector.

CONCLUSION

Government alone cannot control the rising petrol prices. We all as an individual also need to make an effort with the government in order to curb the petrol prices by using our vehicles efficiently. We can use other means of public transport to go to places instead of using own vehicle. We need to think individually in order to save petrol for our self as well as for the upcoming generation.

THANK YOU
